

COLONY'S CHIEF CLOSSES HOME.

Joseph A. Sadony's "Society of Psychology" Headquarters Deserted After Attack by Leader's Wife.

"The House of Mystery," the headquarters of Joseph A. Sadony's "Society of Psychology," 62 Cass street, is deserted. The "professor" of the free love institution, whose wife, Lolia Sadony, sued for divorce and the custody of her 12 year old daughter, Mercedes, is reported as missing. The many girl members have disappeared following Mrs. Sadony's attack on the cult. The house served as the tabernacle as well as the home of the mysterious sect. The windows now are boarded up, even on the upper stories. The doors are barred and repeated knocking yesterday failed to bring response.
